Christmas Extravaganza this Friday evening

Elk Point's giant annual kickoff to the Christmas season goes this Friday evening, as the Elk Point Chamber of Commerce presents their annual Christmas Extravaganza.

One block of Main Street, from 49th to 50th Avenue, will be blocked off from 6 to 11 p.m. and will be the site of a huge and cheerful bonfire. Santa is slated to visit the bonfire area between 7 and 9 p.m. to distribute candy canes and chat with the youngsters.

Hay rides are also on the agenda, and the Lioness Club will be treating everyone to free hot chocolate.

Youngsters are invited to enter a coloring contest, which goes until December 13. The silent auction of trees and wreaths which have been created by local organizations and which will be displayed in the Elk Point Co-op starts Friday and also goes until December 13.

Stores, including some outside the downtown area, will be open late and offering a variety of bargains for pre-Christmas shoppers. With every purchase, shoppers will be eligible to enter draws for in-store prizes as well as for the major prizes of $100, $200 and $300 in Elk Point Bucks, which will be drawn for at 11 p.m. Elk Point Bucks are redeemable for merchandise and services at the participating businesses until December 31.

First Night Fest a go

Word has just been received that plans are underway for Elk Point's third annual First Night Festival on Wednesday, December 31. The event will follow a similar format to last year's event, and organizers are busy tracking down entertainment and planning activities for the whole family. Watch for further details next week!

RCMP investigate death of Fishing Lake resident

Leonard Ross Durocher has been identified as the Fishing Lake resident who was found unconscious early Saturday morning on the Fishing Lake Road approximately 3 km east of Frog Lake Store. The 39 year old victim was discovered laying in the eastbound lane by a group of students and teachers from the J. F. Dion School who returning home from a field trip to Edmonton. Elk Point RCMP were called to the scene and the victim was rushed to Elk Point Health Centre where he was later died.

Investigation of the incident is ongoing and an autopsy has been ordered. It appears the victim may have been struck at low speed by a vehicle travelling on the Fishing Lake Road as he walked along the roadway. It is possible the driver of the vehicle was unaware that he/she struck a person.

Any person who was driving on Highway 897 near Frog Lake Store or on Fishing Lake Road east of the intersection early Saturday (midnight to 2:15 a.m.) is asked to contact the RCMP if they have any information that may be useful to the investigation.

How to avoid interruption in registry service during the postal service disruption

Has your vehicle registration or operator's licence expired?

During the postal service disruption, you will still be responsible for ensuring that your operator's licence and vehicle registration have not expired. Check the expiry date on your licence and registration, and contact a private registry agent if they require renewal. If you have already returned your vehicle registration renewal through the mail, you can pick up your certificate and tabs at a private registry agent.

To locate the private registry agent nearest you, look under "licence and registry services" in your Yellow Pages.

Happy families: a possibility or a myth?

By Deanna Easthope
FCSS Director

During the month of November we were able to read different newspaper articles on Family Violence Prevention. It is something we talk about, avoid talking about, or just plain ignore.

We really all come from happy families — or do we? Some of us do and some of us don't. Then again, some days we come from a happy family and some days we don't. The family is so important. It is really the place where we first learn how to develop relationships with people. Building relationships with people that are positive or negative influences who we are and affects our adjustment in everything we do in life.

The questions of Who, What, Where, When and How can all be asked when we deal with the topic of "Happy Families: A Possibility or a Myth." What makes one family a happy family and another family an unhappy family? One could ask this same question and only change the first word. Books have been written on this topic. Workshops have been held on this topic and many people have paid counsellors to help them develop a happy family. So, the conclusion would be that most people desire a happy family.

On the front page of the Edmonton Journal of November 27, there was a picture with the title: "A deadly decision." It told the story of Ken and Jennifer Petruik. Ken was accused of beating, threatening and sexually assaulting his wife and holding a handgun to her head 10 months before he took her life in a murder-suicide. Jennifer was seeking a divorce from Ken. In March, a court order gave Ken Petruik, 48, a release on $20,000 bail while he awaited trial. This decision bore tragic consequences for his wife and child. As horrified neighbors looked on Tuesday night, the former city fire fighter entered her north Edmonton neighborhood and dragged Jennifer into her home at gunpoint. Once inside, he shot the 32-year-old nurse in the head before turning the sawed-off shotgun on himself. His daughter Serena, 2, was in a crib upstairs.

This is a terrible tragedy. Spousal abuse to the extreme. One could ask many questions on why this man would go to this extreme. What was he looking for? A happy family? Was it something he obviously didn't have and insisted it was something rightfully his? Was it something he insisted on determining the "ground rules" for, and thus a family relationship that didn't have to be happy or unhappy? I could go on and ask many questions, but for lack of total understanding of the whole picture, it is easy to draw the conclusion and just say — "he was a sick man."

It is now the beginning of December — the happy time of the year with Christmas around the corner. But it can also be a time of financial and emotional stress on the family which could lead to spousal and family abuse. What can I say, "Take it easy, everyone, on each other."

Children and teens, take it easy on your parents. Parents and partners, take it easy on each other and your children. Happy families don't have to be a myth, they can be a possibility.

Countdown to Christmas

Sidestep holiday hustle

By Marlene Pixley
Take Off Pounds Sensibly

The mad rush of the holidays can be like a dance in which we try to manage too many steps in too many directions. No wonder many people feel overwhelmed and exhausted by the time the holidays are over.

You can sidestep the holiday hustle. Just follow these three principles:

1. Simplify: Streamline where you can. This might mean different things to different people. It might mean you bake one kind of homemade cookies this year instead of a half-dozen varieties. Maybe it means that you take shortcuts on your decorating to achieve the effect you want without a lot of fuss.

2. Set priorities: Decide what's really important to you and forego the rest. What really gets people in over their heads is when they can't say no to anything. And so they make the rounds of a half-dozen parties, ferry their kids to ten activities in two weeks, bake until they drop, and host several gatherings of their own. No wonder they are burned out.

3. Cover the basics first: Sensible eating, regular exercise and adequate sleep are more important than ever during this busy period. They provide energy, stamina, and mental perspective for enjoying the holidays.

GORGEOUS GIFT IDEAS were on sale at F. G. Miller High School's annual Christmas craft sale, November 22.

Reading opens doors at Elementary

By Myrna Fedorus
Elk Point Elementary School

Elk Point Elementary School celebrated the 21st annual Canadian Children's Book Festival last week with a variety of activities. This year's national Book Festival theme is "Reading Opens Doors" and all the students were entering the open door to the library to eagerly read from the large and varied collection.

The ECS students visited the library for special Storytimes on Wednesday and Thursday.

For the past 16 years, the school has held a Read-A-Loud, with Grade 5 and 6 students, and this year was no exception. Thursday afternoon, the school buzzed with excitement as readers and listeners were paired up and sent to quiet corners of various rooms for the one-on-one story time.

Another longstanding tradition is the Bookmark and Slogan contest. Last year's winner, Eryl Anton Roberts, entered the slogan, "Doggonit Don't Let Anything Come Between You and a Good Book." Her bookmark design was handed out to the students and a large replica of the design was posted over this year's entry box.

Carrying out the theme, the library had a large display of dog books and stuffed dogs. The display case outside the library contained a Canadian Author theme.

Book Festival activities were kept to a minimum this year due to the earlier event when the Alberta author, Martyn Godfrey, visited the school, but enthusiasm was high for the introduction of the Canadian books featured on the new 1998 "Picture This" calendar. The students look forward to new books that will be coming in the new year.

DOORS AND DOGS ON DISPLAY combine the national and local Book Festival themes.

A SIXTEEN YEAR TRADITION of "Read-A-Loud" sessions in conjunction with the Canadian Children's Book Festival Week continued last week at Elk Point Elementary School, with Grade 5 and 6 students reading to Grade 1 and 2 classes.

IMPORTANT NOTICE TO PATIENTS WITH DENTAL INSURANCE

Regarding Coming Changes

Dentistry, as part of the health care business across Canada, has been forced to make changes in the processing of dental benefit claims. This is due to the increasingly large number and types of dental benefit policies, their complexity and changes in the way they are administered.

Beginning January 1, 1998, dental offices in our area will no longer accept assignment of benefits i.e. the dental offices will no longer be receiving payment directly from insurance companies or third parties. Dentists will be asking their patients to provide full payment for treatment upon completion of each visit, and to obtain reimbursement directly from their dental benefit carrier company.

As a service to our patients, we will continue to process all dental claim forms and submit electronic claims whenever possible. We will also continue to help our patients understand their dental benefit policies.

To honor existing Alberta Dental Association agreements, patients covered by Social Services and Native Affairs will not be affected at this time. Similarly, there will be no changes for our seniors.

Please be assured that we are prepared to assist our patients during this transition, and that we remain committed to maintaining the highest standard of care. Feel free to ask questions and discuss your concerns with the business staff at your dental office.

What's news at the library?

We've decked the halls — and the bookshelves!

By Michele Ducek
Librarian

The last of our Christmas decorations went up this past weekend and it is beginning to look very festive here at the library. (We could use just a little bit more snow.) The library has all sorts of picture books and videos about Christmas, as well as Christmas music and books on Christmas cooking and holiday crafts. If you're looking for a little holiday spirit, don't forget to check out the Elk Point Public Library.

Here are a few new titles in adult nonfiction:

In the middle of last winter, Bill Richardson, host of CBC's Richardson's Roundup, travelled across Canada looking into the lives of Canadian eccentrics. The result is Scorned and Beloved: Dead of Winter Meetings with Canadian Eccentrics. Meet all sorts of unique Canadians, from the famous like Glenn Gould and Emily Carr, to the merely unusual, like the woman in Quebec who models her life on Barbie. This is a good book to curl up with on a frosty evening.

Peter Gzowski put together a collection of the most memorable items of his fifteen years as the host of Morningside in The Morningside Years.

Pleyn Delit: Medieval Cookery for Modern Cooks by

United Church celebrates the season

Elk Point United Church has announced their pre-Christmas schedule for the coming weeks. Sunday services for the second, third and fourth Sundays in Advent will be held at 10:00 a.m. each week, with Sunday School at the same time.

On Sunday, December 14, the Roman Catholic congregation will join the United congregation for a 7:30 p.m. service of carols and readings.

The Christmas Eve service is set for 7:30 p.m. on December 24.

Constance B. Hieatt, Brenda Hosington and Sharon Butler is a completely revised edition of the classic cookbook that makes genuine medieval meals available to modern cooks.

The latest in adult fiction: Stephen King finally returns to his Dark Tower series with Wizard and Glass, the fourth book in the saga. Roland, the Last Gunslinger, tells his followers a long-ago tale of love and adventure involving a beautiful woman named Susan Delgado.

A young woman, orphaned as a child, is asked to value the contents of a house and this leads to the exposure of a secret that her guardian has managed to hide for years in The Lady on My Left by Catherine Cookson.

A young man makes a pact with his father that neither of them will do anything that will harm the father's chances for a political career only to have the son become the target of the father's political enemies in 10-lb. Penalty by Dick Francis.

IN MEMORIAM

UCHMAN, Stan

In loving memory of Stan Uchman, who passed away Dec. 4, 1988, nine years ago.

*Every day in some small way,
Memories of you come our way,
Though absent, you are ever near.
So loved, so missed, so very dear.*

Sadly missed by wife Anne, children and grandchildren.

Minor Hockey News

By Doug Bassett
Elk Point Minor Hockey

Christmas parties, Christmas shopping trips and some teams' schedules changing because of the December 1 re-timing of the North East League made this past weekend a fairly quiet one for hockey at the Thunderdome.

The Bantam Lightning played their only game of the weekend on Friday night, defeating Mannville 3 to 2. Off to a slow start, the Lightning were down by two goals before Curtis Croteau scored to close the gap to 2-1 after 40 minutes. The boys started to bear down in the third when Dallas Flamond tied the game and then rugged defence-man Jon Yake buried the winner to give them the two points.

The Novice Hurricanes really looked good on Saturday morning, a lot better than some of their coaching staff, but lost a tough one to Lac La Biche 5 to 4. Mark Brodwin scored all four goals in this contest for the Hurricanes. Another guy who played excellently was goalie Justin Povaschuk, who stoned the Lac La Biche players on many breakaways. Another real improvement on this young team is the all-girl line of Karly Shankowski, Catherine Campbell and Tellia Loughran. The team's fourth girl Kelsey Slywka, plays defence and is one of the team's best backcheckers.

A solid team effort by Dave Cousins' Atom Avalanche in a tournament over in Marwayne this past weekend. After losing to Vermilion on Friday night, they bounced back to defeat Paradise Valley by 10 to 3 on Saturday, and the host team Marwayne on Sunday 5 to 2 to win the "B" side.

The Peewee Blades with only one game this past weekend because of re-timing, had no contest defeating Lloydminster 15 to 3. A good game by hard working Hans McCarthy who has really improved in only his second year of hockey. Three goals each by the veterans Brian Poitras and Melvin Easthope.

The calm before the Storm

A nice crowd came out to watch the Storm at home on Saturday night in an entertaining game that ended in a four-all tie against Hardisty. Two goals by Sheena Flamond and a single each by sisters Amanda and Gwen Lepine. Travelling all the way to Hanna on Sunday the girls lost 5 to 4 with just 3 seconds left in an excellent game. Goals by Megan Tucker, Kandice Bjornstad, Charity Lepine and Sheena Flamond. The way the girls have been playing lately this is just the calm before the Storm.

Coming up this weekend, the Bulldogs from Kitscoty will be in town Friday night to meet the Bantam Lightning. Game time is 7:45. Don't miss this one!

And no matter what some other beer league teams may tell you, the B & R Bullets are still "the best team to ever lace up a pair of skates!"
